

9 January 2008

IMPORTANT

NOVEMBER 2008 GCSE TIMETABLE INFORMATION

Dear Examinations Officer,

The November 2008 GCSE timetable has been removed from the website. The revised provisional timetable will be published on the website by the end of January 2008. Please destroy the two copies of the November 2008 timetable sent to you in 2007 and ensure that you use the revised version once this is published.

Please note the following:

1. The dates for the Science examinations have not been changed.
2. The dates for the Mathematics examinations have changed from November 4, 7 and 14 to November 6, 12 and 13.
3. The dates for the English examinations have been added - these were omitted from the previous version of the timetable.
4. No onscreen tests will be available for any Science or Mathematics units.

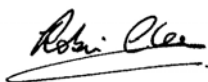

The reasons for issuing a revised timetable are as follows:

1. A number of schools have made representations to the Awarding Bodies and JCQ asking that no examinations be set for the morning of November 7 due to Remembrance Day services that are held in some establishments.
2. A number of schools are not returning from the half-term break until Tuesday 4th November.

Please note that the revised dates for the Mathematics examinations are in line with the revised JCQ common timetable which has been altered due to the two factors noted above.

I apologise for any inconvenience caused to you by the issuing of a revised timetable.

Yours sincerely,

Robin Clee
General Qualifications Programme Manager